

EMPOWERED USERS

In support of our award-winning software, Vermilion offers a selection of scheduled and bespoke training courses to ensure that you get the very best out of your client reporting system.

V:Training courses are open to current clients and prospects that either wish to undertake a Proof of Concept or are about to embark on a live project.

Overview

All our trainers are specialists in client reporting software and include some highly experienced Implementation Consultants.

A certificate is given at the end of each training course.

Our training courses are designed for two groups of users.

Business users

- Client Service / Reporting teams
- Day-to-day business users

Technical users

- Implementation team
- Data administration
- System data architects

Three reasons to choose V:Training

1. Rapid Rol

Getting your staff proficient on the system and delivering value back to the business.

2. Self-sufficiency

Enabling you to rapidly own and manage your reporting function.

3. Product updates

Ensuring that you are making best use of the latest functionality.
